

Limiting XM-radio in supplying valuable programming does not serve the public interest. The broadcast industry should try to compete rather than seeking your approval to limit XM-radio's excellent programming.
Respectfully,

Ira Marvin